Quality - Customer Experience - Innovation

When I founded Delgado Stone Distributors in 2011 my vision was to provide the highest quality natural stone veneer in the industry. As we have grown our company has reached milestones I never dreamed we would achieve. Our commitment to quality has contributed to our growth but what has separated us from other stone companies is something far more important: People.

You as the customer, our Authorized Dealers, and each member of our team have made us who we are today and inspire us to create a better tomorrow. We have made a commitment to three core competencies: Quality - Customer Experience - Innovation.

I am very proud of the products we offer and the company we have become. It has been an exciting journey and we look forward to what the future holds for our company and the people we positively impact along the way. I would like to personally thank you each one of you for selecting our products and people to help make your next project a reality.
